

The Future is Your Choice

All the city and county governments in Ventura County have partnered with residents to address issues such as the county economy, transportation and congestion, housing costs, and climate change.

The effort kicked-off with Map-the-Future workshops that were held last fall. The results of these workshops have been summarized into three simulations that show what tomorrow's cities might look like, the future of open space and agriculture, and how people will get around.

The Ventura Council of Governments invites you to come to a Sustainability Summit or visit www.VenturaCountyCompact.org to:

- see the results of the Map-the-Future workshops
- consider various simulations of our county's future
- explore the consequences to families, the economy, and the environment of the various futures,
- and tell your leaders what you like and don't like about each simulation.

Join your neighbors and elected officials at any one of five Sustainability Summits:
